BALLENTINE'S

DOUBLE STORE.

Business is Brisk!

Why does this store uniformly ask less prices for choice goods? Because we get more business that way—make more store friends—more people save—and we make just as much as if a less number paid higher prices. We could easily advertise to sell a child's suit for fifty cents, and we could buy one to sell you for that price—but you wouldn't buy it. There's the catch to so many cheap sounding suits. Any store can buy a shoddy suit and advertise to sell it for almost nothing without a profit. That's called advertising by some stores. Those suits are not advertised for the purpose of selling those suits; they're advertised to get you in to look at them and sell you another suit at a profit. We want to sell all the goods we've got, and we want to make a little profit on every sale. We don't want to sell anything at a loss and make it up on something else, for we'd get too greedy and never know when we'd "made it up." We are doing a legitimate business and would be pleased to have you call and see us.
